

I would like to voice my support for respecting the privacy of residents of Indiana by respecting the no-call list. I understand that banks and other establishments are trying to protest and change the law in order to be able to use telemarketers to call their current customers.

As a stay-at-home-mom, it is very annoying and time-consuming to answer numerous telemarketer calls. When I need a service or product to buy, I actively shop for it. I do not need anyone to call me about it.

Please drop your case and respect the privacy of Indiana residents.

Sincerely,

Leilani Hacking
